

BeaconMedaes celebrates the inauguration of a new customer center in Shanghai

July 16, 2024 – BeaconMedaes proudly announces the inauguration of its new customer center in Shanghai, China, marking a significant milestone in the company's history. This event not only symbolizes a new beginning but also connects the rich legacy of the past with the promising future ahead.

For the past two decades, BeaconMedaes has established itself as a premium supplier of medical gas pipeline products in China. We are delighted to share this moment with our partners from Atlas Copco (Shanghai) Trading Co., Ltd., who played a crucial role in our initial in China. Joining us are our teams from Wuxi, who were instrumental in the decision to manufacture products locally, enhancing our ability to meet the unique needs of the Chinese market.

We are also honored to have the team from Meditech with us, who became part of the BeaconMedaes family in 2022. Meditech has been pivotal in shifting the market in China towards onsite oxygen solutions, making it a standard in medical facilities for already twenty years.

Dmitry Karablinov, General Manager said, "At BeaconMedaes, we emphasize the importance of cooperative spirit and the synergy between different teams, which drives our success and fosters innovation."

Our comprehensive range of medical services are designed to meet the diverse needs of healthcare facilities, providing significant value to our customers. Our professional attitude and commitment to continuous improvement embody our belief that "life is in details," ensuring we deliver the highest quality care for patients.

As we embark on this new journey, built on a solid foundation, we are confident in a future filled with growth, innovation, and success.
